Script 1

Woman: What's your favourite hobby at the moment, Matthew?
Boy: I don't know, but Christina, she's in my class, is in the mountains this week. She loves snowboarding.

Woman: That's an exciting hobby! What about Jason, does he still enjoy drawing cartoons?
Boy: It's funny. He prefers being in the kitchen now! He loves making strange biscuits and things! Some of them taste terrible! Do you remember Tania?

Woman: Oh, the girl who played guitar at your party?
Boy: That's right. She spends hours practicing that. She wants to be a real musician one day.

Woman: Mmm. And what about Steven? Isn't he good at volleyball?
Boy: No! He just loves sending messages to everyone on the computer.

Woman: Well I'm the same!
Boy: Molly's always out on one of her bikes somewhere. She'll help repair them too. If you've got a problem, she'll know what to do.

Woman: That's useful.
Boy: And Ivan enjoys entering competitions. He loves difficult science questions most! He reads different science magazines online.

Woman: He must be very clever.
Boy: Yes, he is!

Script 2

Girl: Hello, Jay, did you get back from holiday on Friday or Saturday?
Jay: Sunday.

Girl: Where did you stay?
Jay: My parents don't like city-center hotels so we stayed in a hotel right on the beach. The mountains were twenty minutes away by car.

Girl: Was there a pool?
Jay: It was great! I swam in it every day. There were tennis courts as well but I'm no good at tennis. Of course my Dad spent all day playing golf!

Girl: Did you have your own room?
Jay: My brother and I had one together. It was OK – there was a TV. But if we wanted to use a computer or get a drink from the fridge we had to go to our parents' room.

Girl: What was the food like?
Jay: It was fine. There was fish and lots of different salads every day but I prefer pasta so I nearly always had that.

Girl: So was it a good holiday?
Jay: My parents said the hotel was really comfortable and not too noisy. It wasn't expensive either, so we may go back again!
