It was a trip I'll never forget. Two years ago my family and I set off for our holidays at my grandmother's house. We were looking forward to a new experience. 32

We stopped to have a break from endless driving. My mother started collecting flowers in a field to make me a wreath. The huge space of nature seemed so bewildering that exploring it sounded challenging for me. Without any doubts I ran through the field wondering every single insect in a grass. After wards I was sitting on a bench dressed in a T-shirt and jeans, when my dad jocked at me. He was standing behind me wearing his bizarre cap and baggy clothes. "What are doing?" - I asked my father. "Nothing special, I just wonder these flowers in your hair. They shine like diamonds!" - he replied. As usual I was a little bit confused by his words but as any girl I was happy to hear it. My mother was sitting next to me and smiling. 64

This day was certainly one of the best of my life. My heart was filled with excitement of new experience and joy of lovely atmosphere of my parents company. Unfortunately, today I feel ignorant sometimes, as I don't have such a strong connection between my parents and me. I wish we were closer to each other. I hope that soon I'll get one more opportunity to get such cherish ful memories. 240
